ORIGINAL BROADCAST – 26 November to 17 December 1977

NEXT MONTH – Issue Dated 24 December 1977 to 6 January 1978

REPEAT – 10-31 August 1978

SATURDAY

Kyung-Wha Chung (below) was the soloist in

Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto, Princess Margaret was a member of the audience, and St Cecilia was, of course, the patroness of last Tuesday's concert in the Festival Hall. Part of this Royal Concert was recorded for The Lively Arts - In Performance (7.55 BBC2).

● A new adventure awaits Dr Who, Leela and K9 in The Sun Makers (6.5 BBC1). It awaits them, millions of years in the future, on Pluto.

● Having set his characters on so many deserted beaches, Winston Graham, creator of Poldark (Sunday 7.15 BBC1), is himself consigned to one, as the guest in Desert Island Discs (6.15 Radio 4).

● Shown at the Edinburgh Film Festival this year, Fassbinder's Chinese Roulette (9.5 BBC2) now has its television première in Film International.

All Creatures Great and Small

Our first issue of 1978 has Christopher Timothy on the cover playing bestselling vet James Herriot in a new series taken from his books about veterinary adventures in the dales of Yorkshire

Wings

The series about First World War fliers continues, and Captain Triggers (Nicholas Jones, above) and his squadron are in action over France. He and two other leading actors in the series, Tim Woodward and Michael Cochrane, talk to Bob Smyth in our first issue of 1978

Americans

The giant presidential heads of Mount Rushmore become those of a general, a rancher, a schoolteacher and a football coach, four of the 13 American archetypes a new 13-part series uses to investigate modern America

The Mayor of Casterbridge

Fifty years after the death of Thomas Hardy, Dennis Potter has adapted his novel about the pride and fall of a self-made man. Alan Bates plays Michael Henchard, a Dorset farm labourer who sold his wife and their baby daughter at a country auction. Years later, when he is a wealthy corn merchant and has been made mayor of the town, his wife returns there

International Pro-Celebrity Golf

Sean Connery and Henry Cooper (above) are the celebrity captains of, respectively, the entertainers team and the sportsmen team in this new series. They play with professionals Miller and Jacklin in the first of the ten matches

Play for Today

Tony Garnett's The Spongers is about an unsupported, homeless mother of four

Yarwood in Persons

The inimitable Mike Yarwood impersonates a whole host of people in his new series

Also on BBCtv and Radio: Omnibus on Jeanne Moreau ... The Good Old Days' 25th year ... The Reith Lectures ... a Sunday afternoon season of John Wayne films ... Les Dawson in a new series ... the new presenter of Read All About It ... Licking Hitler, David Hare's Play for Today about wartime propaganda ... the North of England war of the sexes starts again with a new series of I Didn't Know You Cared ... Gaslight and other British films of the 40s ... a new Dr Who adventure ... Young Scientists of the Year ... and winter sports on BBC2.
